

ADVERBS OF FREQUENCY

Place the adverb
before the verb.

Place the adverb
after the be verb.

Sometimes is a special example.
It has four different positions.

I usually go for coffee before work.

Simon is almost always late for work.

Sometimes I make Mexican for dinner.

Dinner is sometimes Mexican at my place.

I make Mexican for dinner sometimes.

I sometimes make Mexican for dinner.

Always Almost Always Usually Often
Frequently
Sometimes Occasionally
Seldom
Rarely
Hardly Ever
Almost Never Never

Rewrite the following sentences using adverbs of frequency.

EX: Marge and Steve commute to work. ➡ Marge and Steve almost always commute to work.

1. I cook dinner at home. _____
2. My friends and I go out for drinks. _____
3. Marge is a terrible driver. _____
4. We are at the beach on Sundays. _____
5. Giotto painted incredible frescoes. _____
6. Michelle is sick with terrible headaches. _____

How often do you . . . / How often are you . . .

- . . . wash your car? _____
- . . . in a rush? _____
- . . . go out on a date? _____
- . . . have breakfast? _____
- . . . steal things from local stores? _____
- . . . late for work? _____
- . . . listen to your favorite music? _____